

Highland TOUGHTANK Oil Storage Tanks

Get a Handle on a Great Value

Highland Tank®

Patented Design

Highland's TOUGHTANK features a new head design, stamped to form a U-shaped ridge around the tank's perimeter. When assembled, the U-shaped flange fits tightly against the interior tank wall to form a lap joint. A fillet weld then secures the head into position.

Engineered to be Tough!

Highland 12 gauge TOUGHTANKS are available in 137, 230, 275 and 330 gallon capacities and are UL-80 labeled for fuel oil storage. UL-142 labeled tanks are available for the safe storage of other flammable or combustible liquids.

For added security, the 275 and 330 gallon TOUGHTANKS are also available in double-wall (DW) construction.

Significantly stronger by design, this configuration also serves to protect the weld from external damage during transportation and installation.

 Warning: Operation of a TOUGHTANK in excess of normal operating pressure (2.5 psi) may cause permanent distortion.*

UL Approved for Indoor or Outdoor Use

Highland's 12 Gauge TOUGHTANK oil storage tanks bear a UL 80 Label for indoor or outdoor use in accordance with NFPA 31. TOUGHTANKS are designed and fabricated primarily for the storage of heating oil. They can be modified to qualify for a UL-142 label for safe storage of other flammable or combustible liquids. All TOUGHTANKS are powder coated black and have a low-gloss finish.
