

High-LINK® Integrated Systems couple superior steel tank products with state-of-the-art electronic management equipment and proprietary software providing real-time data to optimize any liquid transfer and use operation.

PRODUCT DETAILS

Track Shield monitors asset location and activity to improve operations, reduce costs, and limit wear and tear. It also provides data to objectively evaluate asset performance based upon a consistent set of predefined scoring criteria.

Data can be transmitted and viewed in real time over GPRS or stored on-board the device. GPS tracking data can be used for route planning, geo-fencing, and location verification.

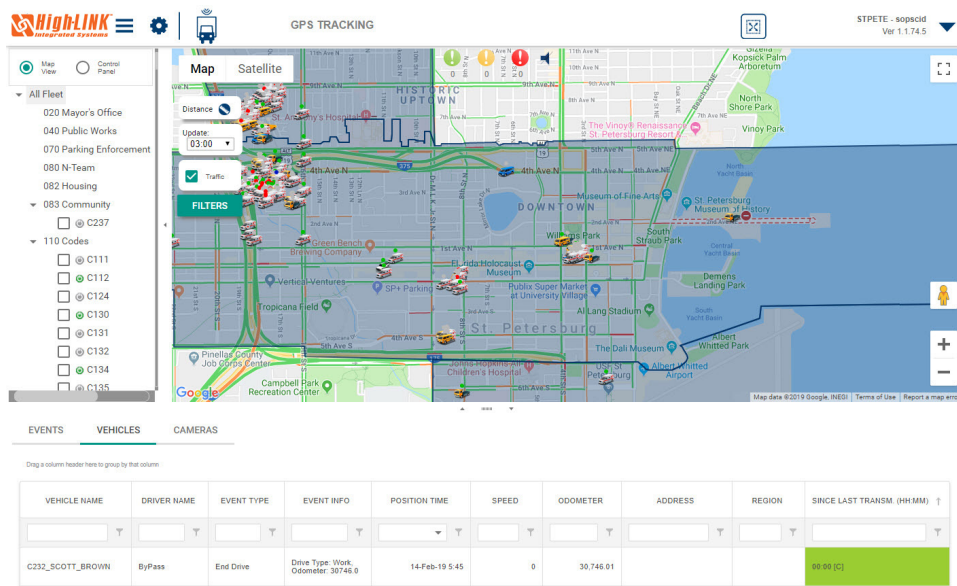

Track Shield transmits data every 10 minutes to keep you up-to-date.

System Features

- Wireless remote monitoring allows for volume monitoring, temperature monitoring, and delivery verification
- Prevent fuel waste or theft with RFID that stops pumping the second the nozzle is removed from the tank
- Save time with exact fuel consumption reports for each time fuel is dispensed
- RFID tags provide GPS tank location tracking
- Utilizing solar-powered controllers saves on operating costs

Monitor & Manage

- RFID to authorize filling and dispensing fuel
- RFID tags provide GPS tank location tracking
- Continuously monitor fluid levels in multiple tanks and locations (Fuel, water, etc.)
- Overfill protection

Data analytics for vehicle and driver optimization

Standard and customized reports are available and easily created or modified by authorized users
